Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 28 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming cloudier on Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A clear and dry start to the night, but with low cloud and fog forming for some through the early hours. Chilly, with light winds and a risk of frost for prone spots. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
A cloudy day for most, with fog lingering in places, and with northern parts seeing the best of any brighter spells. Further fog and low cloud forming overnight. Feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Cloudy on Tuesday morning before sunny spells later. Cloud with showers on Wednesday. More cloud on Thursday with patchy light rain or drizzle. Potential for frost and fog formation overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.